

CAMMEYER

TRUNKS, LEATHER GOODS AND SUIT CASES.

$23 Dress Trunks, $16.

Three-ply veneer, basswood box, sole leather bound, linen lined, two trays, 32, 34 and 36 inch.

$10.00 Trunks at $7.00

Iron bound, extra strong box, sheet iron bottom and centre bands, hardwood slats, held by strong cleats, two trays, sizes 30, 32, 34 and 36.

Sole Leather Suit Cases, $4.85

6 1/2 inches deep, lined inside, shirt pocket inside of cover, heavy brass lock, straps or bolts, leather corners, steel frame; best case ever offered for the money.

Leather Belts, Automobile Bags, Carriage Bags, Wrist Bags, Toilet Sets, Club Bags, English Kit Bags and Carryalls.

MAIL ORDERS FILLED.

6TH AVE. COR. 20TH ST.

MAGISTRATE MOTT NEAR DEATH

ANSWERS TO PETITION FOR HIS AND MEADE'S REMOVAL.

Magistrate Meade expects to be better soon, but the doctors say Mott will never recover—Appellate Division to hear argument tomorrow.

Magistrates Mott and Meade, against whom charges asking for their removal from office were made recently by John W. Mack in behalf of a City Club committee, filed their answers yesterday with the Appellate Division, First Department, which will hear argument to-morrow morning. The Court is asked to oust the Magistrates on the ground that they have for eight months been physically and mentally disabled and have been drawing their pay regularly without rendering the service to which they pledged themselves.

Magistrate Mott's answer is made for him by his attorneys, Lowenstein & Stern, who say that their client is in a Connecticut sanitarium in a state of physical collapse and unable to comprehend the nature of the proceedings. All the allegations are admitted except that charging damage to the administration of justice because of the Magistrate's condition. It is stated that Magistrate Mott's work has been so divided among the other Magistrates, each sitting a few extra days monthly, that court work has gone on without hindrance. It is admitted that Magistrate Mott will not be able again to perform his duties and that his condition is such that he is likely to die within a few weeks.

Affidavits by two physicians say that Magistrate Mott is at any moment. Dr. Ashley Scovel of Darien, Conn., says: "He may linger for weeks or go at any moment, all depending on his vitality and a naturally strong constitution." Dr. Pearce Bailey, his family physician, says Magistrate Mott has an indistinct apprehension "that something is going on affecting him and his official position and that at times he labors under great excitement." Magistrate Meade admits that since October he has been unable to hold court because of illness, but says he is constantly improving in health and that his physician tells him that he will shortly be able to resume his duties. His illness is described as having affected his right arm and leg and to a slight extent the muscular movements of the left side of his face, interfering to a slight degree with his power of speech. But he says he has at all times been able to move about readily, that his face has resumed its normal condition and that he suffers little or no detriment in his speech. His mental condition has always been perfect. He denies that his continuance in office has been to the detriment of the public service and that the Board of Magistrates in consequence of his condition has been unable lawfully to make its assignments. He says he attended the June 15 meeting of the board, when assignments were made for the six months beginning to-day. David McElure is Magistrate Meade's lawyer.

Charles P. Blaney, attorney for the petitioners, remarked after looking over the Mott answer: "This is a plain admission of everything. They say simply that the Magistrate is very sick, is going to die, and ask us to let up. Personally, I have no wish to make the old man any trouble in his time of sickness, but as a lawyer I am bound to do all I can to force Magistrate Mott's family to get him to resign as quickly as possible." Sick as he was, Magistrate Mott was sent for to attend and did attend the meeting of the Board of Magistrates on June 15, at which his vote controlled the only new patronage there was to be dispensed.

BIG ELLIS ISLAND YEAR.

Secretary Cortelyou Takes Charge of a Flourishing Business.

To-day Ellis Island will be under the jurisdiction of Secretary Cortelyou of the Department of Commerce and Labor, instead of Secretary Shaw of the Treasury Department, as heretofore. In the fiscal year ending yesterday 66,474 aliens landed at the island, in the year before 47,791, an increase in the number of arrivals of 40 per cent. The island is a busy place, officiated at 342 marriages.

Cop Falls to Death From Window.

Ferdie Farrelly, a policeman, fell out of a third-story window of his home on Elm street, Newark, yesterday afternoon while trying to adjust a refractory mosquito net frame. His neck was broken and he died instantly. He was about 54 years old and had been on the force nearly twenty years. He leaves a wife and several children.

International Mercantile Marine Co.

Some of the directors of the International Mercantile Marine Company met at the company's office yesterday. The meeting was described as an informal one, at which only routine business was discussed, and nothing occurred of interest to the public. Sir Clinton E. Dawkins and J. Bruce Ismay were present.

American Rubber Co. Changes Name.

The American Rubber Company filed in Trenton yesterday an amended certificate of incorporation changing its name to the Colonial Rubber Company. The capital stock is $1,000,000 and the incorporators are Samuel R. Betts, James J. Kogrove and Kenneth K. McLaren.

Woman Admitted to Federal Bar.

Miss Winifred Sullivan, the fifth woman to be allowed to appear in the United States Circuit Court, took the oath yesterday. She is connected with the firm of Hatch, Keener & Cline of 100 Broadway.

Samples of our shoemaker's $5 line.

Selections from our own $5 stock.

1600 pairs—not one of them less than $5 quality.

Black and russet calf, vici kid and patent leather vici.

Lace and button high shoes; Blucher and regular Oxfords.

All sorts of lasts.

Something in every size and width.

$8.50.

Young men, 32-34 inch chest, have a selection of fancy chevrot vacation suits at $10 and $12, which were considerably higher priced.

Just as good for business.

ROGERS, PEET & COMPANY.

228 Broadway, opposite City Hall, and 100 to 104 West 34th St.

We sell orders by mail.

1200 Broadway, cor. 25th St. and 54 West 35th St.

Economy

is impossible without efficiency.

GAS

Efficiency

and Economy combined if you Cook with Gas

ON TRAIL OF SUICIDE CLUB?

HOBOKEN POLICE CHIEF THINKS HE HAS ONE OF ITS MEMBERS.

Esmarch Made Death Pact With Rogotski.

Witnesses Say, Bode Him Farewell and Lauded His Act, but Failed to Keep Pledge When He Saw the Body.

In the arrest yesterday of Rudolph Esmarch of 206 Second street, Hoboken, who is charged with conspiracy and manslaughter in causing Jacob Rogotski to commit suicide, the police expect to bring to light details of the much-exploited Hoboken Suicide Club. The existence of such an organization has heretofore been denied by the police, although it has been a matter of discussion in Hoboken for several years.

When Rogotski killed himself by drinking carbolic acid in a saloon at Park avenue and First street, last Friday afternoon, it was said that another member of the Suicide Club had lived up to the tenets of the order. Then it was rumored about that Esmarch, who had agreed with Rogotski to die, lost courage and refused to finish the bottle of poison they had bought with the same object in view.

When Chief of Police Hayes heard this story he investigated. He verified the report of the alleged compact, and learned that it had gone on since the suicide of Paul Browsky of 90 Clinton street, last Wednesday. Browsky drank a pint of acid in the presence of his wife and two children. He was a chum of Esmarch and Rogotski.

The chief learned from Henry Bunker, the proprietor of the saloon at the corner of Park avenue and First street, that Esmarch and Rogotski were drinking in his place last Friday afternoon when the question of Browsky's suicide was brought up. A man said that Browsky had been very foolish, but Esmarch and Rogotski lauded his act.

Esmarch got very excited when some one remarked that it was only cowards who committed suicide.

"Let me have some acid," he shouted to Bunker, "and I'll show you right here whether or not I'm a coward. If you knew what Rogotski and I know about suicide you wouldn't say that. Let's have the acid, and we'll both show you!"

Bunker said he didn't have any acid, and Esmarch got still angrier and asked him what kind of a saloon he was running.

He left the saloon with Rogotski after making an unsuccessful attempt to borrow 25 cents to buy some acid. Where the pair got the money with which they purchased the acid in a drug store an hour later Chief Hayes was unable to learn. They returned to Bunker's saloon shortly before 5 o'clock and shook hands in front of the bar. Rogotski then went to a room in the rear of the saloon, carrying the bottle containing the acid.

There was a goodly-sized crowd at the bar. Esmarch went up to Albert Klueberg of 115 Garden street and nudged his elbow, he said.

"We're each going to take half of it," he said.

"What are you talking about?" asked Klueberg.

"You'll know in a moment," said Esmarch. "We're both going to do the trick and show you that we're not cowards. Liever and you'll hear his body fall."

"Hear him?" he said a moment later, as a crash was heard in the room. "Good old Rogotski has taken his half!"

Esmarch went to the room, followed by the men at the bar. Rogotski was on the floor with the half-drawn bottle in his right hand. He died before he could be taken to a chair. Esmarch, according to the witnesses, gazed at the body of his friend for a full minute. He then fled from the saloon.

Klueberg, Bunker and the latter's assistant to these facts when Esmarch was arrested by Recorder Stanton yesterday.

The prisoner denied that he was connected with the suicide club, and said that everything he had said in the saloon

Continuation of Our Sale of Silk Hosiery.

Exceptional Values.

Silk Stockings.

Thread silk, plain black, rich-lieu ribbed, fancy ribbed and some colors; worth from $2 to $2.65 per pair;

$1.35.

The above lot includes some handsome Openwork Instep Stockings, all black, at $1.35.

Silk Stockings.

openwork and fancy, in black grounds with white and colored embroidery, vertical stripes, high class novelties and a variety of styles; worth

$3.65;

$1.95.

Silk Stockings.

lace inserted and all-over openwork, intricate and artistic in design, mostly in black and very desirable; worth from $3.25 to $4.50 per pair;

$2.65.

Lord & Taylor.

The thin, the thinner, or the thinnest of everything "under the sun."

A Suit of blue serge, $12 to $22, or grey serge, $15, or a Suit of wool-cash, striped, (coats and trousers) $8, $10, $12, $14, or a Suit of thin, fancy tweed, $12, $15, $18 and higher.

Wash Vests, white and fancy, $2.50 to $5.50.

Latest Negligee Shirts, $1.50 to $3.50.

Hackett, Carhart & Co.

Three BROADWAY Stores.

Cor. 13th St. Cor. Canal St. Near Chambers.

From Quaint Old Salem

we have created a number of reproductions of early Colonial furniture.

The dignified Highboy, the long Study Table, the high backed Chair of inviting depth, are but a few of the pieces reproduced from these charming New England examples.

Grand Rapids Furniture Company

(Incorporated)

34th Street, West, Nos. 155-157.

—Minute from Broadway

about ending his life had been said in a spirit of rivalry. He had bought the acid with Rogotski, he said, because he wanted to use it for cleaning beds.

Recorder Stanton committed him without bail to await the action of the Hudson county Grand Jury. Chief Hayes thinks he can extort a confession from Esmarch which will lead to a complete exposure of the workings of the suicide club.

LITTLE IMMIGRANT GRADUATES.

500. Many of Them Now Fit for School. Leave the Educational Alliance.

The school term of the class for immigrant children at the Educational Alliance, East Broadway and Jefferson street, closed yesterday with patriotic exercises. There were 500 children in the class, most of whom have become so proficient in English that they will not have to return to the Alliance in September, but may enter public schools.

When the children went to the Alliance less than six months ago, they could not speak a word of English and knew nothing of the customs of this country. The rapidity with which they have learned impressed those who witnessed the exercises yesterday morning.

The children assembled in the auditorium, each carrying two small American flags. An oath of allegiance to the flag was one of the interesting features of the exercises. The form of the oath was specially written for such exercises at the Alliance.

Supt. David Blaustein made a short address to the children. There was a piping chorus of "Yes, sir!" in response to his question if they understood English. When he asked how many had been to school in Russia there were only a few scattering replies. To the children who understood English well enough Mr. Blaustein gave certificates which will admit them to the public schools in the fall.

Six Months' Advertising

DURING the first half of the present year THE SUN, DAILY, SUNDAY and EVENING, carried 3,388,775 agate lines of advertising. This is an increase over the first six months of 1902 of 852,187 lines, over 2,840 columns, a gain in excess of 32 1/2%.

THE SUN (Daily and Sunday) during this period carried 2,019,926 lines, an increase of 346,805 lines, or 1,156 columns.

THE EVENING SUN during the same six months had 1,368,849 lines, an increase of 505,382 lines, over 1,684 columns.

That Sale of Suits $16 to Measure at

This ISN'T a $16 tailoring shop. Just now we are selling suits AT $16 but there's a big distinction betwixt! We are making you a $30 suit—we're asking you $16. That great purchase of fine woollens still offers best choice, and many of our regular fabrics have swelled the assortment! Our tailors will build the garments in their usual way—and that's the $30 manner at any other custom shop. Pick of all the cloths that you can look through in an hour. Serge in black and blue and chevrons in blue and black, and every kind of fancy style—rough face knobby homespun and plain and striped wool crashes. The best value ever tailored by this house of extraordinary values—$16. We'll send samples, measuring outfit and set of fashion cards free upon request.

ARNHEIM

Broadway and 9th St.

Clearing Sale of Parasols.

Phain and Fancy Parasols.

We will place on sale a number of lines of which we wish to close out—they comprise goods ranging in prices from $3.00 to $7.00—the reduced prices are $1.50, $2.50, $3.50.

Lord & Taylor.

Now for the Summer Things—Light in Color—Light in Weight—"Comfort Creations"

We have them. Light Summer flannels and homespun that please the eye on a hot day. A stock so large and full of neat, pretty designs containing every popular style you are partial to—$15 to $25. Summer Furnishings, Neckwear, Negligee Shirts, Fancy Hosiery, Comfortable Low Shoes, Straw Hats, and all other Summer Wearables.

Smith, Gray & Co. Broadway at 31st St. Brooklyn (Broadway at Bedford Ave. Fulton St. at Flatbush Ave.)

Order the Genuine Imported

Ross's Royal

BELFAST GINGER ALE

Safest Summer Drink

CAREFUL CARPET CLEANING CO.

HELD FOR MURDER IN GERMANY.

Valentin Wollak Said to Have Killed an Innkeeper and His Wife.

Valentin Wollak, charged with the murder of Josef Ackerman and his wife Elizabeth, innkeepers of Rosenberg, Prussia, was taken before United States Commissioner Shields yesterday. Wollak denied any knowledge of the murder and was held for an examination to-day.

It is alleged that Wollak and Tarnow Galicia entered the inn of the Ackermans and were breaking open the till when discovered. The men, it is said, rushed upon the innkeeper and his wife and killed them with hatchets. Galicia was arrested, while Wollak fled to America.

He arrived in New York in January and went to Housatonic, Mass. His arrest resulted from a letter he wrote to his sweetheart in Prussia.

Kent's Rotary KNIFE CLEANING MACHINES. 100,000 in use in European hotels and families.

LEWIS & CONGER. Sole Agents. 180 & 182 West 42d Street, and 135 West 41st St., New York.

The Wanamaker Store.

Store Opens at 8:30 A. M. and Closes at 5 P. M.

Parasols for the "Fourth"

Interesting News About Five Hundred

Enthusiasm about Parasols has been dampened and deluged during this month of sunless June.

The weather condition has perhaps saved your buying earlier, and saved a large part of the price, if you are fortunate enough to secure one of today's five hundred, which come from a manufacturer who had no hope of cleaning up stock except by the radical concession which won our help and will secure yours.

The Parasols are new and perfect, as well as in the popular styles of the season. Today they are grouped as follows:

At $1.25—All-silk Parasols, with fancy borders; worth $2.50 each.

At $1.50 and $1.90—Handsome Parasols of colored and figured moire, fancy checked and striped silks, black-and-white plaids, pin dots, black taffeta, and some of sheer white linen with colored border, silk-lined; also some that can be carried in rain or shine.

A splendid collection of Parasols, worth $3 to $6; today at $1.50 and $1.90 each.

Broadway.

Women's Fine Dress Skirts

A Summer Clean-Up

This announcement concerns some of the handsomest Separate Dress Skirts that were shown this season. They are skirts made for particular wear during the summer season, and some will give important service during the early days of autumn as well.

The materials include voiles, canvas cloths, silk net, and a few very handsome velvets. All are silk-lined, and variously trimmed with lace, taffeta silk and satin. In various colors as well as black, gray and white. Original prices ranged from $30 to $75.

Today Choose for $20

Also a smaller group of Dress Skirts, formerly $18 to $27.

Today at $10

Second floor, Broadway.

A Thoroughly Great Accomplishment of Our Piano Business

Do you ever look back over the conditions in the piano business, and note how policies have changed in recent years? Do you realize that things were radically different only four years ago? And then the WANAMAKER Piano business began to be felt in New York City.

With it came the One-Price System.

With it came the Club plan of easy monthly payments, without increase of price.

With it vanished all doubt and uncertainty—all the old mystery that was formerly the bugaboo of piano-buying.

With it eventually came

The Frederick Doll Piano at $185

It had always been possible to get a thoroughly good piano if you were willing to pay the largest price, and rely on well-proven names; but the moment one started to try to make a moderate amount of money secure a good piano, the trouble and danger began.

Our experts spent two years of work among manufacturers in studying and planning to produce pianos of thorough excellence at a moderate price. And the successful outcome of that endeavor has proven of the broadest public benefit to musical people who wanted a good piano at reasonable cost.

The Frederick Doll piano is first of all an instrument of clear, mellow tone, accurately scaled. There are no shortcomings such as are almost universal in other pianos at or near its price. It possesses tone and action that satisfies the musical ear and touch.

Then the Colonial cases have the thoroughly artistic finish that pleases people of particular taste. Few pianos at this price are more refined in style.

Those who do not wish to pay cash for a piano will be interested in knowing that they can arrange to pay for a Frederick Doll piano on the easy terms of

$10 Cash and $6 a Month

Buying at the same price, $185, and paying only at the low rate of 4 per cent. per annum on the unpaid part.

A new group of these excellent pianos has just arrived from the factory. We shall be glad to show them to you today.

Piano Store, Fifth floor.

JOHN WANAMAKER.

Formerly A. T. Stewart & Co., Broadway, 4th ave., 9th and 10th sts.